

SPECIAL AUCTION AND RAFFLE TAGS

A number of unique big game hunting opportunities are available in Oregon through the use of special auction and raffle tags. These tags offer both an expanded hunt area and expanded season dates. As a result, special auction and raffle tags have become very popular.

The primary purpose of the tags is to generate funding for specific programs. Auction and raffle tags for bighorn sheep, pronghorn, and Rocky Mountain goats generate funding for management and research for respective species. Auction and raffle tags for deer and elk generate funding for the Access and Habitat Program.

Bighorn Sheep

The Oregon Bighorn Sheep Auction and Raffle tag program has been the cornerstone for funding bighorn management and research in Oregon since its inception (Table 1). The 2009 Oregon bighorn auction tag sold for a bid price of $95,000 in January 2009. Overall individual bid prices for state tags at the 2009 Foundation for North American Wild Sheep (FNAWS) auction were stable. The 2009 bighorn raffle tag was drawn at the May 16, 2009 Oregon Hunters Association (OHA) convention in Grand Ronde, OR. Proposals for the 2010 special bighorn sheep tags will be presented to the Commission in October 2009.

Pronghorn Antelope

The Commission is authorized to annually issue one special pronghorn auction tag and one special pronghorn raffle tag. Patterned after the bighorn sheep auction and raffle tags, funding generated from these tags is dedicated to pronghorn management and research. After six years, these two tags have generated over $130,000. The 2009 special auction tag sold for $5,000 at the 2009 Umpqua Chapter of Oregon Hunters Association banquet on May 16, 2009 (Table 2). Raffle sales for the 2009 pronghorn tag were over $6,000 during 2009.

The raffle tag was drawn at the May 16, 2009, annual OHA convention in Grand Ronde. Proposals for the 2010 special bighorn sheep tags will be presented to the Commission in October 2009.

Rocky Mountain Goat

The Commission is authorized to annually issue one special Rocky Mountain goat auction tag and one special Rocky Mountain goat raffle tag. Also patterned after the bighorn sheep auction and raffle tags, funding generated from these tags is dedicated to Rocky Mountain goat management and research. After six years, this tag has already generated over $65,000 (Table 3). Due to the limited number of controlled Rocky Mountain goat tags, the department does not issue an auction tag. The raffle tag was drawn at the May 16, 2009, annual OHA convention in Grand Ronde. Proposals for the 2010 special bighorn sheep tags will be presented to the Commission in October 2009.

Access and Habitat, Deer and Elk Auction and Raffle Program

The Access and Habitat (A&H) deer and elk auction and raffle program has been a valuable funding source, generating over $3 million in revenue since 1995 (Table 4). Auction and raffle proceeds have accounted for over 22 percent of A&H Program revenue. These funds, together with a license surcharge and a portion of the Green Forage and Deer Enhancement and Restoration funds, have been used to implement over 370 hunter access and/or habitat projects in Oregon.

A&H deer and elk raffle tickets, along with other department big game raffle tickets, were sold at ODFW offices and point-of-sales license agents beginning in December 2008. The raffle drawing took place at the 2009 Oregon Hunters Association annual convention on May 16, 2009. Raffle tickets can be purchased singly or in multi-packs for deer (1 for $4.00, 6 for $11.00, 15 for $21.00, 40 for $51.00, and 100 for $101.00), elk (1 for $6.00, 6 for $21.00, 15 for $41.00, and 40 for $101.00), and combination deer and elk (1 for $11.00, 6 for $31.00, 15 for $61.00, and 40 for $151.00).

A&H deer and elk tags are auctioned at the fundraising banquets of sponsoring sport groups. Each summer the department solicits applications to sponsor an A&H auction tag. The A&H Board will select sponsoring organizations at their July 21, 2009, meeting in Salem. Sponsoring organizations receive up to 10 percent of the proceeds from the sale of the auction tag and the remainder is forwarded to the A&H Program. The 2009 A&H auction program was quite successful, with sales holding steady despite the current economic recession.

A&H Board and Department Recommendations

The department recommends one special bighorn tag be auctioned to the highest bidder during the 2010 Wild Sheep Foundation Annual Convention in Reno, NV, and one special bighorn raffle tag to be drawn in conjunction with all raffle tags at the 2010 annual big game raffle drawing event.

The department recommends continuation of the special pronghorn auction and raffle tags for 2010 and proposes that the raffle tag be drawn in conjunction with all other department raffle tags (e.g. A&H hunts, bighorn, Rocky Mountain goat). The department is soliciting bids from organizations wishing to sponsor the 2010 pronghorn auction tag through the summer. The department will propose a recommended sales date and location at the October 2009 Commission meeting.

The department recommends continuation of the special Rocky Mountain goat raffle tag for 2010 and proposes that the raffle tag be drawn in conjunction with all other department raffle tags (e.g. A&H hunts, bighorn, pronghorn antelope). Since controlled tags for Rocky Mountain goats continue to be limited at this time, the department is not proposing implementation of an auction program for 2010. However, as Rocky Mountain goat relocation efforts expand concurrent with the now available funding, the likelihood of an auction tag in the future is increasing.

The A&H Board recommends to the Commission the allocation of five deer and five elk raffle tags and five deer and five elk auction tags for the 2010 season. The Board recommends that the A&H auction and raffle tags remain unchanged from the 2009 season.
