NEED FOR THE RULE(S)

The Commission denied a petition received from fifteen non-government organizations to undertake rulemaking process to prohibit coyote killing contests in Oregon at their December 2022 meeting. As part of the motion, the Commission directed staff to work with the Department of Justice to draft administrative rules, consistent with the Commission's authority, for consideration of addressing the general concerns with taking wildlife as part of a derby. The proposed rule changes are completing the request and opening the public comment process.

STATEMENT IDENTIFYING HOW ADOPTION OF RULE(S) WILL AFFECT RACIAL EQUITY IN THIS STATE

The Department has solicited input from representatives of underrepresented communities likely to be affected on whether the proposed rule will have a fiscal impact on the community, the extent of the fiscal impact, and whether the rules will have significant impact on underrepresented communities. <https://www.dfw.state.or.us/OARs/index.asp>

FISCAL AND ECONOMIC IMPACT:

The proposed rules are not expected to have impact because the ability for landowners to deal with agricultural damage caused by statutorily defined "predatory animals" is still allowed with participants being agents of the landowner(s).

COST OF COMPLIANCE:

(1) Identify any state agencies, units of local government, and members of the public likely to be economically affected by the rule(s). (2) Effect on Small Businesses: (a) Estimate the number and type of small businesses subject to the rule(s); (b) Describe the expected reporting, recordkeeping and administrative activities and cost required to comply with the rule(s); (c) Estimate the cost of professional services, equipment supplies, labor and increased administration required to comply with the rule(s).

(1) Identify any state agencies, units of local government, and members of the public likely to be economically affected by the rule(s).

The proposed rules are not expected to affect state agencies or local government; any previous public participation taking wildlife associated with proposed rules would need to follow specific provisions of the statutes regulating take of predatory animals (ORS 610.105).

Impacts to the Oregon State Police (OSP) for additional enforcement efforts related to hunting derbies are not anticipated, however OSP may occasionally conduct enforcement activities related to derbies conducted for the purpose of taking predatory animals pursuant to ORS 610.105.

(2) Effect on Small Businesses: (a) Estimate the number and type of small businesses subject to the rule(s); Minimal impacts are expected with very minimal loss of economic travel related revenue in the few rural communities that previously hosted open participation in a small number of events. ODFW does not have information to determine how many derbies occur in Oregon annually or the number of derby participants. There is currently no reporting requirement for derbies, so the Department's awareness is limited reports from the public or local advertising.

(b) Describe the expected reporting, recordkeeping and administrative activities and cost required to comply with the rule(s);

None expected

(c) Estimate the cost of professional services, equipment supplies, labor and increased administration required to comply with the rule(s).

These types of compliance costs are not anticipated to result from the proposed rules.

DESCRIBE HOW SMALL BUSINESSES WERE INVOLVED IN THE DEVELOPMENT OF THESE RULE(S):

Topic has previously been discussed at Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission meetings and public correspondence and testimony was accepted into record. This concept has also been previously introduced by legislators in previous legislative sessions.

WAS AN ADMINISTRATIVE RULE ADVISORY COMMITTEE CONSULTED? NO IF NOT, WHY NOT?

An Administrative Rules Advisory Committee was not consulted. These concepts were discussed at the December 2022 Oregon Fish and Wildlife Commission meeting where public correspondence and testimony was accepted into the record. The Commission gave direction to Department staff to bring back draft rules for consideration on the issue.

A restraining trap system is a system set with the intent to capture and restrain (but not kill) a mammal comprising a combination of: equipment (the trap and the trigger configuration), and set (including site modifications, lures, baits, location and other relevant requirements). ¶¶

Trailheads are marked by at least one visible sign posted by the responsible state or federal land management agency and identified on the most current official map of the agency. A trailhead does not include junctions between trails (posted or not) where there is no motorized vehicle access, or intersections where a trail crosses a road, or locations where users have developed an access point, but no improvements have been provided beyond minimal signage for public safety.¶¶

If water levels fluctuate, then at each required trap-check any killing trap with a jaw spread of 7.5 inches or more originally set in a water set must be removed or adjusted such that at least a portion of the trap jaws or snare loop is submerged except in tidally influenced areas when set below the mean high water mark.¶¶
